IN THIS HOW WILL HITLER FACE DEFEAT? by Hermann Rauschning

A BELLYFUL OF HELL FOR HITLER

YET—a jolted of money and hell—she's what the big boys are of the United Nations, estimated to reach Japan leads by Wildlife Overseas, now heading back on hell planet to a better world and a better place.

When my Allied Forces are pushing ahead today, the enemy jeep, the Syng Rill Caisse Warth, is doing its desperate job for our forces in a very close.

Produced and marketed for American lighting firms everywhere by the U.S. Ordnance Department, Willys headlamps are widely used by Canadian and British forces and are in

A Guest Editorial

ALREADY enshrined in the letter of a dying Parliamentary statute, a Canadian foreign policy has begun to atrophy at Ottawa. We have been waiting for it, struggling along so faintly, at peering for its lack of blood and response. For almost half a century

Three basic principles were to be accepted at last by Parliament: (1) collective security under some form of world league, (2) full participation in the British Commonwealth as an equal partner, (3) closest co-operation with the United States.

Stated thus, these principles sound obvious, yes and commonplace. We have always perceived them. But the record of the last 15 years shows that we have never really meant them.

What was our basic mistake at those years? It was the refusal to make any commitments, to face facts, to prepare for any consequences. Our method of preparing for the future was to avoid any preparation. Our method of defense was to be let us die. Our method of attack was to avoid all attacks. Our foreign policy was to have no policy at all.

The questions which now come out of the discussions of Parliament is whether we have truly issued the bill of a policy of no policy, the necessity of such and disastrous commitment, and the inevitable fact that we shall be smacked, once and once would we.

Mr. King apparently has learned this lesson. He was one of the chief architects of the policy of no commitments. He was the last weather vane of the League of Nations, and he was one of those who hoped that somehow, by keeping our heads in the sand, we might dodge the approaching war. But he reacted as so good as the reward of his opponents, often longer. The truth is that he and the other politicians all reflected the mood the average and the false hopes of the people. Except for a very few men, we were all parties to the general delusion.

Now Mr. King says that even before the war is over he must build an international armistice.

So Great a Faith

ONE British ally now in their fourth year of the war, reflect the great strain of this—the Axis side.

The tale of British courage and successful defence is not merely the romance by the Island Kingdom upon a highly seamy. It is more than that. It is the story of a nation once almost without weapons that fought long by her own faith. It is the narrative of a good people, bleeding but unbroken. It is the saga of patriotism, the ritual of resolution and a glorious record of fortitude. So great a faith in her traditions, so great a love of "England," so great an admiration for Wellington and Nelson—and so willing to depart this life for any one of these British devotion cannot be measured nor can it be deluged. It must be held.

HOW MANY OF THESE WAR

1. THIS ONE'S EASY. Yes, gas masks (right) Dominion Rubber has manufactured thousands upon thousands of them.

2. FOR "FLYING FISH". On forced landings of our airmen, hot safety air Dominions Rubber inflatable life rafts.

3. ASK THE TANK CORPS. Modern tanks "talk" to each other—read Dominions rubber tanks into pieces and parts for radios.

"A Good Name to Remember"

DOMINION RUBBER

HERE'S a chance to test your knowledge of products being supplied to our fighting fronts by Canada's largest rubber company.

Study the illustrations, and see how many of these products being made in Dominion Rubber Company's eight factories you can identify... then read the captions. Some of the products you will spot at a glance, others will stump even the experts. If you can name ten, you are doing well.

A number of the products you won't recognize as items normally made by Dominion Rubber... textiles, chemicals and steel products, for instance... but go ahead, see what your score is.

3. WHICH IS WHICH? Both are Dominions Royal Terns for planes. The widest tire is for the tail wheel as you probably guessed.

6. "POISON FOR HITLER." From a plant of Dominions exact ammonia—chemicals to maintain the explosive power of shells.

4. SEVEN LEAGUES. Please lend for seventh, Dominions Rubber flying boots help airmen keep warm in high altitudes.

7. PRETTY SOFT! This is piece of wood that few kids of feet, which ultimately will be covered into felt for slippers, gas masks, etc.

PRODUCTS CAN YOU IDENTIFY?

8. ARMEN KNOW. No gas shells, no gas masks, if necessary bullets please this Dominions Rubber will cooling fuel tank.

9. MEN FROM MARS? Protected from the effects of chemical warfare, soldiers now clad in anti-gas clothing made by Dominions.

10. THIRSTY? Well, they are a special type of Dominions Tires known as "Boogie wheels". The steel tracks of tanks ride on them.

11. PASS THE ---? Here it's ammunition, and the entire production of one Dominions Rubber plant is devoted to making bullets.

12. DOES DOUBLE DUTY. Dominions Rubber tape also serves as ground sheet. Rubber soldiers in heavy yards and dry.

13. MADE BY THE MILLION. For most, around army units, Dominions makes millions of various mountings and rubber parts.

14. HARD TO BELIEVE. Miraculous made by Dominions seals up when being punctured by a bullet. Gas is sealed in, fire prevented.

15. ROUGH RIDER. You'll probably spot them as steel tank tracks made by Dominions Rubber to get tanks over the roughest terrain.

16. LATEST IN HATS? No, but Dominions makes a device made by Dominions Rubber to protect the detonating end of bombs.

by actual test

The real measure of economy is not how much you pay, but how much you get for what you pay. Just how much further a can of Old Dutch will go than a can of any other leading cleanser has been measured in both authoritative laboratory tests and in certified demonstrations under actual living conditions.

Here is how Old Dutch Cleanser does this: First, one element in Old Dutch quickly dissolves the grease that holds dirt tightly to the surface. Then, with grease gone, comes Scismotite, the basic ingredient that makes Old Dutch do more cleaning. Its soft flaky particles remove the dirt easily, quickly, thoroughly . . . without scratching the glossy porcelain surface.

That is why hard scrubbing is not necessary when you use Old Dutch Cleanser. That is why you clean more bathtubs, so quickly, so beautifully with Old Dutch Cleanser. No doubt that is why more housewives use Old Dutch than any other cleanser.
